Eco Tan & Eco By Sonya Story

In 2010 my world changed; I found myself a solo mum and my sister was diagnosed with a melanoma. We started having spray tans and I began researching the ingredients in the products we were using as I didn't want toxic chemicals getting into my sisters nasty scar. I couldn't believe what I found (even after they claimed to be natural).

It was in these moments that I decided to start making my own organic spray tan solution from my tiny kitchen using only organic and natural ingredients. My love for organics propelled me into this global phenomenon and I hold enormous honour of being Australia's first certified organic tan!
